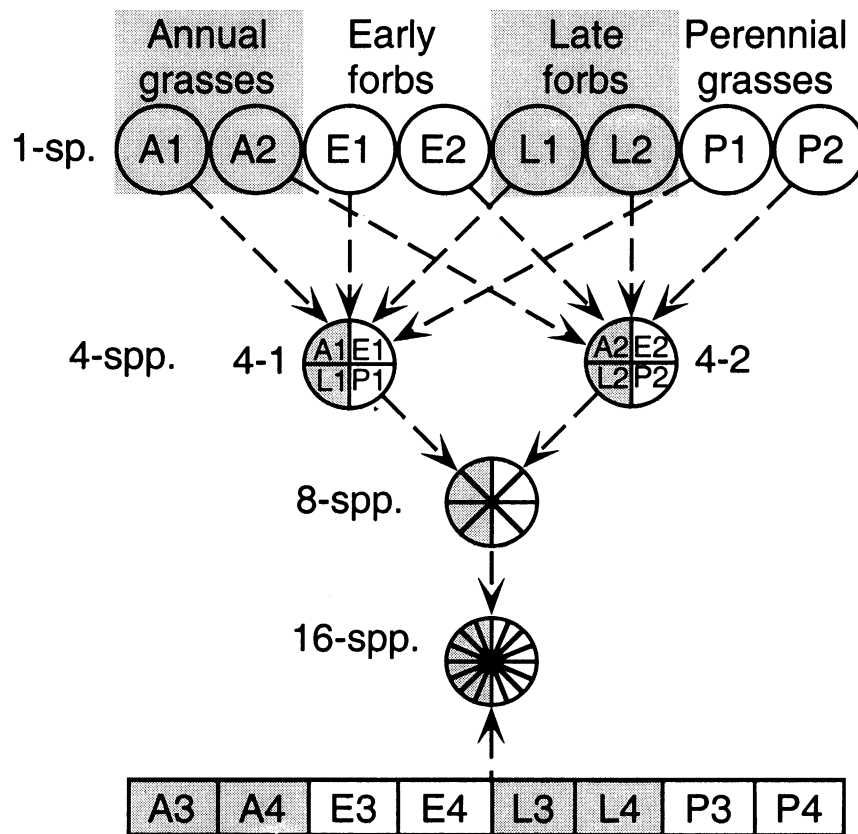

Fig. 1. Illustration of the experimental design. Each circle represents one community type. The number of sections in each circle corresponds with the number of species in that community. Arrows identify the species that were used in each polyculture. Species codes are explained in Table 1. The eight species shown at the bottom were only used in the 16-species community. Labels identify the two 4-species communities, 4-1 and 4-2.
